

SI 190

Compact Performance. Full-Sized Possibilities.

Your Next Step Toward Efficient Pouching

Volpak introduces the SI 190, the newest addition to its SI Series of Horizontal Form-Fill-Seal (HFFS) machines. Designed for small to medium production runs, the SI 190 combines high-performance pouching capabilities with a compact footprint. It offers ease of operation through intuitive controls and tool-free adjustments, enabling quicker changeovers and minimizing operator training. Its efficient design reduces downtime and operating costs while maintaining optimal output. Engineered to run recyclable and mono-material films, the SI 190 is also sustainability-ready — making it an agile, cost-effective, and future-proof solution for modern packaging demands.

Key benefits

- Compact Size, Full Capability

The smallest model in the SI Series, optimized for limited space and and cost-efficient operations — without compromising performance.

- Flexible & Upgradeable Platform

Start with a basic configuration and scale up as your production grows. A future-proof solution that evolves with your needs.

- Ready for All Products, All Markets

From sauces and snacks to pet food and personal care, the SI 190 handles liquids, solids, and powders in flat, stand-up, or shaped pouches.

- Sustainability-Ready by Design

Built to work with 100% recyclable films, with smart sealing, film tension control, and spout pre-heating for reduced waste and optimal results.

- Smart Technology for Easy Operation

Integrated with Coesia Optimate for guided changeovers and maintenance—minimizing downtime and simplifying training.

Type of pouches:
